NEW YEAR BRINGS THE CHANCE OF A NEW START

CLUB DIRECTORY

I MUST start by saying that early deadlines forced upon us by the holiday season make it especially difficult to write with any degree of topicality.

For, at time of writing we have yet to play both Hearts and Rangers, two very important fixtures on which much will depend.

In consequence I can only hope that these matches have provided a bright start to the New Year.

Quite frankly, I was glad to see the back of 1990 for it brought mainly disappointment with the loss of two major finals and league form far below the standards we set ourselves at this club.

I sincerely hope that in 1991 we can remove the cobwebs of the previous year and start to give ourselves the opportunity to achieve the targets we have set in putting ourselves among the teams challenging for the honours.

Last year we succeeded in reaching major finals but this year we must try and capture the prizes on offer on those occasions.

In the league we must quite simply play an awful lot better and produce consistent performances which are in line with the demands of this club.

One thing which has been fully appreciated is the manner in which the bulk of our supporters have demonstrated that, despite the fact these are very difficult times to be a Celtic supporter, they have stuck by their team with great credit.

Indeed if we had shown the same love and determination towards the club as the supporters have exhibited in abundance in recent times then the current picture would perhaps be brighter.

I am well aware of the criticism that has been levelled at me and I will simply say that I respect the right of any fan to express his or her views.

I have received many letters both critical and supportive and I can readily understand the frustrations which are being experienced as expressed by our fans.

I hope 1991 gives us the opportunity to repay the fans' faith to the full and satisfy their demands by giving them numerous victories to cheer.

THE contributor to this week's Poet's Corner is Tommy Maguire of 57 Barshaw Road, Penilee, Glasgow. The theme of his verse concerns a certain May evening in Lisbon from the season of 1966/67 and should be sung to the air of "The Wild Rover".

Play Up Celtic.

On a bright summer's eve in the cool month of May,

The Champions of Scotland in Lisbon did play.

Their fans they had banners of every design.

To spur on the play of the Celtic combine.

Chorus:

Singing: Play up Celtic,

Play up Celtic and score,

Take the cup back to Parkhead,

Make it thine evermore.

An early setback from the penalty spot,
Didn't upset the Celts, for with courage they fought,

And soon they received the reward they were due,

A 'rocket' from Gimmell past Sarti it flew.

Repeat chorus:

With five minutes left to give Inter the heave,

A long ball from Murdoch was cracked home by Steve,

Then the banners of green were proudly unfurled,

A tribute to Celtic — the best in the world.

Repeat chorus.

'TIC TALK...

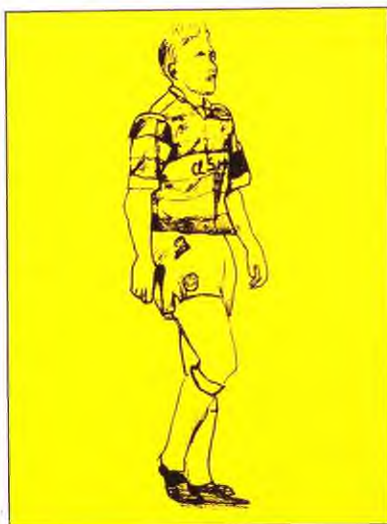

IN a break with tradition, 17-year-old Frances Cunningham of 139 Cairnswell Avenue, Halfway in Cambuslang, did NOT send a drawing of her favourite player to the Gallery Slot.

For, unable to get Gerry Creaney's pose quite to her satisfaction, Frances put her efforts to likenesses of some other Celtic stars.

The subject today is her pencil recreation of midfielder Mike Galloway, who with spikey tuft of hair featuring prominently, bears a respectable resemblance to that famous cartoon character Tin Tin.

Thanks to all who have sent their drawings over the past few months and perhaps Frances has thrown down a challenge to all Celtic artistes yet to send in their work.

That is to get Gerry Creaney's pose right!

WELL worth another mention is the under-18s' Glasgow Cup final between Celtic and Partick Thistle next Wednesday, January 9, at 7.30pm.

Both teams would surely rise to the presence of a large crowd and the tournament, which has provided a wealth of memorable moments in its short existence for youth sides, is deserving of the grand occasion which a big attendance would provide.

Especially with such a prestigious trophy at stake and the certainty that the issue will be settled by the end of the evening.

In other words, get yourself down to Celtic Park next Wednesday!

PRINTERS' holidays over the New Year period have again enforced early deadlines for the material included in today's magazine and as a result all information relates to events prior to last Saturday.

Apologies to all those who like up-to-the-minute statistics but these shall return in the next issue on January 19 for the home game against Aberdeen when, as the saying goes, normal service shall be resumed.

THE CELTIC PROGRAMME WOULD LIKE TO WISH ALL ITS READERS A HAPPY AND PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR.
