SOCIAL MISSION STATEMENT

Introduction

Celtic Football Club is legendary and as with most legends as much myth as fact surrounds its history and what the Club stands for today. The Social Mission Statement aims to simply define what the Club stands for and seeks to promote within society.

History

Celtic Football Club was founded in 1888. Its principal founder was a Marist Brother named Walfrid. The Club had two principal aims: The first aim was to raise funds to provide food for the poor of the East End of Glasgow, an area of the City that was greatly impoverished and had a high rate of infant mortality. Within the East End was a large Irish community and friction was growing between the native Glaswegians and the new influx of Irish. Brother Walfrid saw the need for social integration and his vision was a football club that Scottish and Irish, Protestants and Catholics alike could support. A new football club would be a vehicle to bring the communities together and this was the second aim. The Marist brother sought for the Club to have both a Scottish and Irish identity and hence, the Club's name "Celtic" came about, representing a bridge of cultures across the Irish Sea.

Current Positioning of Celtic Football Club

Celtic Football Club is a Scottish football club with proud Irish links. The primary business of Celtic is as a football club. It is run on a professional business basis with no political agenda. However, the Club has a wider role and the responsibility of being a major Scottish social institution promoting health, well-being and social integration.

Who is Celtic Football Club for?

Celtic Football Club is for people who want to support a football club that strives for excellence in Scotland and in Europe, is proud of its history, supportive of its local community and seeks to support the following aims: "To maximise all opportunities to disassociate the Club from sectarianism and bigotry of any kind. To promote Celtic as a Club for all people, regardless of gender, age, religion, race or ability."

Summary

Celtic is a club for everyone who believes in football as a medium for healthy pleasure, entertainment and social integration. The Club always has been and always will simply aim to be the team of the people.

TONIGHT we take a break from league action as we resume our defence of the Scottish Cup with the replay against Aberdeen. The first game at Pittodrie was a dramatic and exciting game of football, and if we get a repeat of that tonight the fans are in for a treat.

Of course, it goes without saying that we'd like to win the game as comfortably as possible and not leave everyone on tenterhooks waiting for a last-gasp equaliser. The manner in which we ensured there would be a replay, however, says much about the players' character. This group of players will keep going until the final whistle and there have been a number of occasions over the past couple of years when we've scored late on to either draw or win a game.

It's what everyone expects of Celtic players, including the players themselves, and it is to their credit that they have this determination and a fear of getting beat that drives them on.

We know, however, that even though we have home advantage for the replay, it will still require a great effort to reach the semi-final of the competition. Aberdeen showed us at Pittodrie just how difficult they can be and I would expect them to be just as formidable opponents tonight.

We enjoyed winning the Scottish Cup last season and we have every intention of trying to do the same again this time around. However, our opponents tonight will have the same desire to succeed and, as I said, it could make for a terrific game of football.

In these games, and at this time of the season, the backing of our supporters is vital to the players. After our cup game at Pittodrie I spoke about the fact that the common denominator over the years in Celtic's last-gasp successes has been the fans, who can help drive the team on.

Tonight we'll need that support again as we look to win this game and reach the last four of the Scottish Cup.
