WELCOME TO OUR VISITORS AND GUEST VISITORS

We are indeed fortunate in being hosts tonight to Celtic F.C., the first British club to win the European Cup in 1967 and a side renowned for attacking, skilful soccer.

In 1971 we were visited by Manchester United F.C. who were previously managed by another well known Scot, Sir Matt Busby. To Jock Stein, manager of Celtic, the officials and players of the club, and our own guest players may I sincerely wish you all a very pleasant and restful stay and thank you once more for honouring our club by visiting us.

C. F. BECHELET,

President,
St. Ouen's Football and Sports Club.

EVAN WILLIAMS (goalkeeper):

Signed from Wolverhampton Wanderers in 1969, Evan has established himself as Celtic's regular last line of defence following the retirement of the great Ronnie Simpson. A player who first came into prominence with the now defunct Scottish club Third Lanark, he had an excellent 1971-72 season as Celtic powered to League and Scottish Cup triumphs.

DENNIS CONNAGHAN (goalkeeper):

Purchased from St. Mirren last season to add strength in depth to Celtic's goalkeeping ability. Dennis has proved a worthy rival to Williams and has acquitted himself excellently in his first-team games. He performs with consistency in any level of competition.

DAVID HAY (full-back/wing-half):

One of the most versatile players in Scotland, David has proved one of Jock Stein's most important discoveries. Despite his ability to play anywhere, full-back is considered his best position but he has played for Scotland as a forward. He was first capped in 1970 and has won 11 full international honours.

DANNY McGRAIN (full-back):

Originally a wing-half, Danny has been cleverly converted into a full-back and has been playing splendidly as such this season. Looks set for a distinguished career.

JIM BROGAN (full-back/wing-half):

Another player who shines just as brightly as a wing-half or full-back, Jim has proved a tower of strength in defence this term. Another international, he won four caps in 1971.

BOBBY MURDOCH (wing-half):

First capped by Scotland in 1966 and the holder of a dozen full international honours, Bobby is the man in charge of the Parkhead "engine room." Very strong in possession and a dynamic driving force, he made a spectacular return to the side last season. Specialises in hitting unexpected goals from long range.

BILLY McNEILL (centre-half)

Signed as long ago as 1957, Billy is the Celtic club's longest-serving player and seems — like good wine — to improve with age! He was first capped by Scotland in 1961 and has won 28 caps, his first-class leadership and play last season earning him a recall to the squad for the Home International series. He is Celtic's captain.

GEORGE CONNELLY (wing-half)

A superb reader of the game, George was one of the brightest stars of Celtic's European campaign last season. Also an international, he partners McNeill to perfection in the middle of Celtic's defence. He was signed from junior club Tulliallan Thistle in 1966.

TOM CALLAGHAN (wing-half/inside-forward)

Bought from Dunfermline Athletic for £35,000 in 1968, Tom had a long, quiet spell following his transfer but is now proving his worth in a big way. He is famed for his powerful running and ability to create goals.

JIMMY JOHNSTONE (winger):

One of the most brilliant ball-players and match-winners in British football, Jimmy first played for Scotland in 1965 and has picked up nearly 20 caps since then. Has the ability to turn any defence inside out with his superb talents and scores goals as well as makes them. A tremendously exciting player to watch.

JOHN 'DIXIE' DEANS (inside-forward):

Signed from Motherwell last season to get goals, 'Dixie' has done just that. He is exceptionally good in the air and chases everything. He crowned his first season with Celts by grabbing a hat-trick in the 6-1 Scottish Cup Final win over Hibernian.

LOU MACARI (inside-forward):

Yet another international, Lou had a great game against Denmark last month, scoring one goal and cleverly laying on another in Scotland's 4-1 victory. A veritable 'buzz-bomb,' the diminutive insideman who can also star on the left wing joined Celts in 1966 and has developed as a real personality of the Scottish scene.

KENNY DALGLISH (inside-forward):

Like so many of his team-mates, Kenny revels in a variety of roles but is best-known for his deadly finishing ability. He was carefully groomed for stardom by Celtic and when his chance came he seized it. Yet another international who should win many more caps.

BOBBY LENNOX (inside-forward/winger):

A Celt for 11 years, Bobby has been playing as well as ever this season. Pace and finishing power are the strong points of his game and they have won him 10 full Scottish caps.

HARRY HOOD (inside-forward):

A £40,000 purchase from Clyde three years ago, Harry has proved an exceptionally good buy, having scored many valuable goals. An adept player on the ball, he prefers the direct approach and is another lethal finisher.

PAUL WILSON (forward):

Paul functions mainly at outside-left and is one of the best players in Scottish reserve football. He has had a number of first-team appearances and has invariably acquitted himself well.

JIMMY QUINN (full-back):

Bearer of an illustrious Celtic name, Jimmy was formerly a forward. He is renowned for his speed and still loves to go into attack. Has had an extended first-team run this season, usually playing at left-back.
