MATCH MAGAZINE SLANT

A GOOD game—and a trouble-free evening. That's the 'double' everyone connected with Rangers and Celtic is looking for tonight.

The clubs will endeavour to provide a game up to the standard of the best of Rangers–Celtic encounters.

And it is up to the fans to provide the other essential—a night free of problems, before, during and after the game.

Rangers ask all fans to co-operate and help to make this an Old Firm game without incident.

Certainly it is an important game—as are most Old Firm matches. But victory will not ensure the Championship for either team, neither will defeat mean the end of flag ambitions.

There is a long way to go yet, and plenty of other challengers who have their aim fixed on the title so tonight's game is just one in a succession of vital games for both clubs in the exciting Premier Championship.

For Rangers, the game—postponed from a few weeks ago—means three thrilling clashes inside a week. The run started with Hibs on Saturday, then there's Celtic tonight and the strong-going Hearts at Tynecastle on Saturday.

Every one a cracker—and all of equal importance.

If Rangers can come through this hectic week with maximum points, then the defence of the Premier title will be shaping up solidly.

It would send the Light Blues heading for the turn of the year in fine fettle. But it would by no means be the end of the hard work. As recent weeks have proved, a couple of bad results can send a team slipping just as quickly as two good ones promotes a climb up the table.

● FOLLOW THE IBROX CODE OF CONDUCT—PAGE 6

● It's the salute that means a goal has just been scored. Derek Johnstone turns away after opening the scoring in the match against Celtic at Parkhead in September. The game finished 2-2.

● So nearly another! Derek Johnstone lashes all his power behind this shot in the last minute of the September meeting against Celtic, but his shot was blocked and the danger was cleared to rob Rangers of a last-gasp winner.

● MEET RANGERS OPPONENTS ●

CELTIC come to Ibrox tonight in the midst of a team re-building programme which has seen the club go out and buy fresh talent as well as promote talented youngsters from the reserve squad.

The Parkhead club have proved that they can go out and spend in a big way if they believe the right players are available.

Big Englishmen Peter Latchford was a £40,000 buy from West Brom and now has another English rival for the Parkhead goalkeeper's job... recent signing Roy Baines from Morton.

To add experience to his defence, manager Jock Stein went to Hibs and scooped the veteran internationalist Pat Stanton—a deal which has already paid dividends because of the help the ex-Hibs skipper has given to young centre half Roddy McDonald.

Midfield man Ronnie Glavin was an £80,000 buy from Partick Thistle a couple of seasons ago and has now been joined by ex-Firhill colleague Joe Craig for £60,000.

And in the attack Celts have the speedy Johnny Doyle, who cost £90,000 from Ayr United.

That's about £300,000 invested to bring the side back to the standard the club set when winning nine League titles in succession as well as, of course, the 1967 European Cup.

This cash outlay is balanced by the breakthrough of boys like big Roy Aitken, just 17 but shaping up powerfully in midfield, and other youngsters like the dainty Jim Burns and the forceful George McCluskey.

A TOUGH ONE AGAINST THE 'REBUILT' CELTS

Key men in the Parkhead line-up, of course, are the Scotland World Cup duo of Danny McGrain and Kenny Dalglish.

McGrain is recognised as one of the finest full backs in the world and the swift skills of Dalglish in either midfield or striking position have made him one of the country's most exciting players.

Both played against Wales at Hampden last week and seem set for many more caps.

Another addition to the Celtic staff is assistant manager Davie McParland, who had a lengthy career as player coach and manager at Partick Thistle before bossing Amateur side Queen's Park for a couple of seasons.

The season has so far gone quite well for Celtic considering the team had to be changed frequently for the League and League Cup campaigns because of the fact that both Stanton and Craig were Cup-tied with their previous clubs and had to miss the League Cup run which took Celtic through to Hampden where they lost to Aberdeen in extra time.

Now this is over, manager Stein is hoping for a settled formation which will bring in the points in the Championship chase over the winter months.

IF YOUR NUMBER COMES UP

The most popular, unique feature of any football programme in Scotland . . . the £50 lucky number magazine.

Only in the Rangers match programme—the No. 1 club magazine in Scotland last season—do the fans get the chance to win £50 IN CASH at no extra cost.

Once you have bought your programme—you are in with a chance.

All you have to do is check the number printed in the panel on the back page.

At half-time the winning number will be announced over the loudspeakers and displayed on boards carried round the track.

If your number has come up—you're in the money. Bring the programme with you to the main entrance after the match and you will receive the £50 in cash.

YOUR CODE OF CONDUCT

RANGERS once again remind all fans of the need for the very best behaviour on the terracings. It is in the interest of the good name of the club that this should be a trouble-free day.

Once again Rangers ask all supporters to adhere to the club's 10-point Code of Conduct printed below.

1. Ban the carrying of alcohol on buses.
2. Ban members from taking alcohol into the stadium.
3. Ban the singing of provocative songs in buses and on the terracings.
4. Ban the use of obscene language.
5. Have the greatest respect for residents in the vicinity of football grounds. Do not be a public nuisance.
6. Put an end to members urinating at the roadside when travelling.
7. Set a good example to the youngsters who are travelling.
8. Impress on youth the importance of good behaviour.
9. Have respect for women who attend matches.
10. Notify Ibrox Stadium of any sign of hooliganism both home and away.

The Club, Police, Local Authorities and S.F.A. will back the supporters association in these measures.

FLASHBACK... FLASHBACK... FLASHBACK...

EIGHT GOALS AND BAGS OF THRILLS!

TWICE already this season the Old Firm have met—in games that produced plenty of excitement and eight goals.

FACTFILE...

- Today's game will be the 162nd League meeting between Rangers and Celtic.
- Rangers have won 68 of the previous 161 games, drawn 49 and lost 44.
- In the process, the Light Blues have scored 248 goals and conceded 209.
- Celtic have won only 15 times in their League visits dating back to 1890.
- Their biggest League win at Ibrox was 4-0 in 1897-98. Rangers' biggest First Division win over Celtic was 5-0 in 1893-94.
- Celtic were founded in 1888. They have won the League Championship 29 times, and have been runners-up 17 times.
- They have won the Scottish Cup 24 times, and been runners-up 14 times. Celtic have been League Cup winners eight times and runners-up five times (having been in the final for the past 13 years).
- They won the European Cup in 1967 and were beaten finalists in 1970.
- Their record win was 11-0 against Dundee in 1895 and their biggest defeat was 8-0 by Motherwell in 1936-37.
- Jimmy McGrory holds the club's individual League scoring record with 50 goals in season 1935-36.

The first of the meetings was at Parkhead back in August in the Glasgow Cup—and 55,000 fans watched Rangers battle through to a 3-1 victory.

Sandy Jardine set them on the way with a fourth-minute goal, boring through the defence before shooting under Latchford's body.

Six minutes later, after a Derek Johnstone header had been blocked, Colin Jackson hit the rebound against Celtic's Andy Lynch and the ball went spinning over the line—Celtic protested that the ball hadn't in fact crossed the line, but the referee made it a goal.

Edvaldsson got one back for Celtic before the break, and the battle continued into the second half. Rangers were without the injured Colin Jackson and had Derek Johnstone moved back into the centre of the defence with Bobby McKean on as substitute.

Celtic pressed for an equaliser, but instead Rangers sealed the game when Alex Miller slotted in a penalty after McDonald had fouled Derek Parlane.

The first League meeting of the season was also at Parkhead—on September 4. And Again Rangers built up an early two-goal lead.

Derek Johnstone got the first in nine minutes with a tap-in following a Tommy McLean corner which had been only half cleared by the defence.

Then in 34 minutes wee Mac made goal No. 2. This time he went through the defence, drew keeper Peter Latchford and sent in a shot which came back off the post. Derek Parlane was following-up to ram the ball into the roof of the net.

Celtic were down—but not out. The cool example of ex-Hibs skipper Pat Stanton, making his debut, helped them get over this double blow and two goals from Paul Wilson—both cracking right foot shots—earned them a point.

Wilson's second goal came three minutes from time. A crowd of 57,000 watched the game.

COLIN AND CHRIS IN GOALS DUEL

● COLIN STEIN

VETERAN Colin Stein and youngster Chris Robertson are having quite a scoring duel in the Ibrox reserve side.

Between them they have rattled in 12 goals in the Colts' last four games. Colin has the edge over this short-term run—having hit seven, including a hat-trick against Kilmarnock a week past on Saturday.

But overall young Chris—a boy with the knack of grabbing goals—has rattled in 14 goals. Which is good, but even better considering he has played in only 17 games.

It's no wonder manager Jock Wallace has had Chris in the first-team as substitute this season and considers Stein a candidate for the top squad again.

STARSPOT

IT'S THE KEEPER'S WAITING GAME!

PATIENCE has become a key quality for goalkeeper Stewart Kennedy—for ever since he joined Rangers from Stenhousemuir the big keeper has had to play a waiting game.

He had to wait a couple of seasons for his first team chance—and then took it brilliantly. Then came injury which put him out and Peter McCloy back in.

Next it was McCloy's turn to get hurt—in the pre-match warm-up for the St. Etienne Cup-tie last season—and back came Stewart... only to go out again with a freak injury two months later.

"I've learned to be patient," says Stewart. "I have learned that I will get my chance when the first-team position is vacant—and then it's up to me to hold it. The same thing applies to Peter."

Mind you, the last couple of times he has been brought in, Stewart has been left wondering what's going on.

"Last season I came in for the St. Etienne game—just when the team was going off the boil. We only won once in the first five games. This season we had only two wins in my first eight games.

"And of course we lost 10 goals in these three games we lost in succession. That's the kind of thing that seldom happens to Rangers and I must admit it was worrying.

"However, I felt I was perhaps at fault for a couple in the Motherwell game, but apart from that I was playing well. And the boss is great—he sticks by you in situations like that.

"But I'm certainly happy that we started to win again. Going two games without losing a goal works wonders for everyone's morale—particularly the keeper!

"I'm happy with my own form—and I just hope to help Rangers to win that title again. It would be nice to get back into the Scotland team again as well... I feel I've a point to prove there following that 5-1 Wembley defeat a couple of years ago. I took the blame for everything, which I don't feel was fair.

"I'd like another chance."

● STEWART KENNEDY

Treble-bid Colts must sit back and wait

RESERVE

REVIEW

RANGERS Reserves defence of their League title is shaping up well.

But their ambitions in the two other trophies—the Second XI Cup and the Reserve League Cup—have come to a standstill.

The Colts are rarin' to go in the two Cup competitions—but instead have to sit back and wait for other results to be decided.

They are through to the semi-final of the Reserve League Cup—but their opponents have still to be decided.

It will be either Ayr United or Dundee United. However, these teams drew 1-1 on aggregate over two games and now have to find a date for a third meeting to decide who goes through.

That could take a week or so yet. And it's the same in the Second XI Cup. The Light Blues are in the third round—but the draw for the next round can't be made because of some second round ties still to be settled.

However, it will all be sorted out soon—and coach Joe Mason is confident his men are ready.

Coach Mason is particularly happy with the form of former winger Eric Morris in his role at centre half.

"The way he's played in the past few games he is ready for the first team," says Joe. "He has made tremendous progress from game to game. He's fast, agile and great in the air. His play has been a revelation at centre half."

The Ibrox coach is also delighted with the showing of young Ralph Brand, who has also had a change of role.

"Since he switched from midfield to sweeper, he has settled in well," says Joe. "He looks really strong and loves a chance to come through from the back."

● ERIC MORRIS

The breakthrough of Kenny Watson to the first team is an incentive to all the second team boys. Kenny got his chance because of his hard work and determination over a long time.

"Kenny deserved the opportunity—and there are others like Morris, Chris Robertson and Colin Stein all knocking on the door," says Joe.

That's just the kind of news to keep the first team boys on their toes as well.
